

Cahoon Wins Diamond Medal in Press Tourney--Schoolboy Game Listed

TIMES BOWLER GAINS MEDAL

E. F. Cahoon, With 110 Pins Average, Scores Over 130 Entrants in Tourney.

E. F. Cahoon, of The Times, is today the proud possessor of a handsome diamond medal, contributed by Morris Cafritz, of the Recreation Bowling Alleys, as first prize in an elimination contest for the newspaper men of the city. Cahoon is also the recipient of a box of cigars, from an anonymous admirer, and of a bit of advice from George Cox about the foul line.

Dave McCarty, of The Star, as runner-up to Cahoon, received a gold medal of striking design and beauty, while third place trophy went to Leroy Kluge, also of The Star. Jimmy Boyd, of The Times, received a gold medal for rolling the highest single game of the contests. Jimmy is all the prouder of this medal, that he had practically to win it twice. High set honors went to A. Walter Collier, of The Bulletin. Collier rolled 372 pins in three games to win the gold medal which went as a prize for this achievement. R. T. Britt, of The Post, by rolling a flat game of 95, received a flat, offered by Henry Rodier, of The Bulletin.

CAHOON CONSISTENT.

Cahoon's triumph in this classic event stands out as a consistent bit of bowling. In a field of 130 men, who participated at the start of the tournament, he emerged with a lead of 100 pins over his nearest competitor, Dave McCarty.

McCarty went into the lead the third week after the inauguration of the tourney, and held top position week after week against formidable opposition by such good bowlers as Malcolm, Baum, Darnall, Allen, MacAlwee, Boyd, Cromwell and Bevo Brown.

Last week, when the field had narrowed down to four men, Dave had a lead of thirty-two pins over Cahoon, then running third. Of the four men then surviving, three were from the Star, McCarty, Cromwell and Kluge, and The Times had its sole representative, Cahoon.

"Bubbles" seized upon this situation as the psychological moment to throw in the highest three games rolled in the event, amassing 375 for his three games. With the other three entrants rolling games only up to their normal average, Cahoon leaped well to the front.

In rolling the final three strings yesterday, Cahoon carried a margin of 63 pins over his opponent, an insuperable handicap. Nevertheless, he added 43 more to his advantage over McCarty, as the result of some of the neatest flat bowling seen in quite a while, losing but one pin the first game.

HAS FINE AVERAGE.
With two marks, Cahoon rolled 115, counting 16 pins on the marks, and rolling a flat 99. For his twenty-one games, Cahoon scored 2,315 pins, an average of 110.5 a game. McCarty got a total of 2,309 for the same number of games, an average per game of 105.4.

At the conclusion of the bowling yesterday, George T. Cox, president of the Washington City Bowlers Association, assembled the participants and spectators, and on behalf of the management of the Recreation Alleys, presented the winners with their trophies.

This Competition With Movie Heroes Is Terrible

PEERLESS TO PLAY QUINCY ON SUNDAY

Fast Amateur Nines Hook Up For Monument Lot Engagement.

What promises to be one of the best amateur games of the local season will be staged Sunday when the Peerless A. C. and Quincy A. C. nines hook up on the Monument Lot. Both teams are on edge for the tussle. The Quincy lads are extremely anxious about trimming the Peerless men. The Peerless appear well able to take care of themselves. All but two of last year's players of the Peerless, will be out Sunday. It is expected that Roy Beall, who used to toss them up for the Steel Plant nine, will do the slab work for the Quincys. The Peerless, being well fortified with pitching material, will use four hurlers, while they will have three catchers doing the receiving work during the game. The battle will be staged on the Monument grounds and a large crowd is expected to witness the engagement which will be called at 3 p. m.

HERZL LADS TO OPEN SEASON WITH SARANAC

The Herzl Club will open its season Sunday, April 10, with the Saranac A. C. on Diamond No. 3, Monument Lot, at 11 a. m.

Yanks Have Three.

The Yankees A. C. play a game with the General Land Office today and a double-header Sunday with the Park Views and the Rockfords. All the games will be played on Monument lot diamond No. 1.

ALONG THE SPORT TRAIL

By GEO. E. PHAIR

Suppose you were to sit and read a book of buccannery wherein the gallant hero up and smote the pirate dead. And in the silence of the night you raised your voice in cheering—Your family would think that you were crazy in the head.

Suppose you were to sit and hear a ballad operative that floated from the vitals of the household phonograph. And you arose and clapped your hands in manner most emphatic—Your family would greet you with a loud and raucous laugh.

We don't applaud the hero in the pages of a novel. We don't applaud a record. Though its voice be sweet and low. And yet we make the rafters shake. To see the villain grovel. And cheer the hero in a moving picture show.

In the spring a young man's fancy fondly turns to the dark seats in the back row of the movie house.

FAMOUS SAYINGS.
"It's no use, boys; I can't come back."—Kaiser Karl.

THE SUPPRESSIVE AGE.
The suppressive mania, which has impregnated so many forms of national life, has leaked into sport.

Strangler Lewis works up a headlock which renders his opponents null and void, and immediately they raise a cry and cry against it. Johnny Meyers perfects a double wristlock and wins himself a championship, whereupon the propagandists clamor to put a jody on it. Rocky Kansas develops a back-handed swipe which causes various rivals to bite the resin, and forthwith there is a cry for legislation against it.

And if Babe Ruth keeps up his career of devastation a lot of ball clubs will start an agitation for the suppression of four-base hits.

Moral: What's the use?

Lanker and Capablanca are moving as intently as if they belonged to the Furniture Movers' Union.

Speaking of chess and other soporific sports, directly under the six-day bike story is a headline: "Hay Movement Strong."

No, Estuace, a Chow dog is not a hot dog, although a hot dog is chow.

TOUGH LUCK.
I like your style, Tris Speaker, I like your baseball team, I like the way you play, And scintillate and gleam. But baseball experts pick you. To win the pennant race, And that is why I heave a sigh And tears run down my face!

Ithacans Visit Hilltop Tomorrow Afternoon and May Face Reynolds.

Cornell, with a 2 to 1 victory over the University of Virginia, is playing here tomorrow afternoon on the Hilltop against Georgetown University. The Ithacans have had but few practices out of doors and are on their annual Southern trip. It is expected that Art Reynolds will go in against the Cornell lads tomorrow. Reynolds was to have worked against Williams but will probably take his turn tomorrow. The Hilltoppers have been idle for the past week. They expect to redouble their baseball activities however, as Richmond, Lafayette, Western Maryland, Virginia Polytechnic, and Georgia Tech follow in order. On April 30 the Hilltoppers go down to the Navy to meet the midshipmen. Eleven games are in prospect for the month of May.

RAIN HURTS GOLF SCORE OF HARDING

President and Fletcher. Lose Five Up to Rice and Lardner.

President Harding, the Under Secretary of State, Henry P. Fletcher; Ring Lardner and Grantland Rice, sport writers extraordinary, played eighteen holes of golf yesterday afternoon, and Lardner and Rice beat the President and Fletcher five up.

The game was played on the links of the Chevy Chase Club and from the start Messrs. Lardner and Rice tried their best to give their distinguished rivals a walloping—if that is a good golf term. A drizzling rain came up, but since the President was several strokes behind he wanted to keep playing, and the game was finished in the rain. Few persons other than Secret Service men saw the unusual golf match between the two high Government officials and the two noted humorists and sport writers. "You know me Al," Ring is reported to have remarked to Warren G. Harding and Lardner finished the eighteenth hole.
